

Dr. Swati Ghosh
Professor and Head,
Department of Economics, RBU.
Email-id: ghosh.swati@rbu.ac.in
Contact No.: 91638 57166

Dr. Swati Ghosh teaches Economics at the Rabindra Bharati University, Kolkata. She is also the Director of the Women's Studies Centre of the University. She is author of the book titled: The Gendered Proletariat: Sex Work, Worker's Movement and Agency (OUP, 2017). She has publications in journals like the Social Text, Hecate, Identity Culture and Politics, Economic and Political Weekly, Sarai Reader, etc. Her publications include several book-chapters and monographs, focusing on migration of labour, health of the adolescent, identity, sexuality and worker-status of women in colonial and postcolonial settings. She is twice recipient of the South Asian Fellowship of Social Science Research Council (US). She has worked in collaborative projects with Goldsmith's College, London, Centre for the Study of Developing Societies, V.V. Giri Labour Institute, New Delhi, CEHAT, CWDS and Government of West Bengal. She was a member of the Regional Action Forum III, of SARI-Q working on Safe Migration Policy. She was part of the KAF-CSDS study on Modern Youth: the Kolkata Chapter. She has participated in international and national seminars, attended summer school at Amsterdam (SEPHIS), Afro-Asian Dialogue (CODESRIA) and winter school in TISS. She has taught courses at the University of Calcutta, Department of Economics, as guest faculty. She has 6 PhD and 9 Mphil scholars, as of now. Her research area is Informal Labour, Migration and Economics of Social Sector. Feminist Theory and Gender Studies have engaged her in very many ways. She has translated the book Science and Indian Culture, a collection of essays by J.B.S. Haldane in Bengali. Therigatha: Pratham Manabir Swar is another forthcoming book of her's (Ananda Publishers).